COAST, BAR AND RIVER NEWS OF THE HOUR

CRAFT ARRIVING AND DEPARTING IN AND FROM ASTORIA
—AND THEIR MASTERS, MEN AND MESSAGES

The motor sloop Condor arrived in port yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock and berthed at the O. R. & N. with a good big cargo from Alaska. Her master reports that he had delightful weather up to a point 10 miles to the southward of Tillamook Rock, when the nor'wester struck him, at 10 p. m. on Wednesday night, and gave him all he could do to get up to the bar and in. But she is all snug and will go on to the metropolis this morning.

The Lurline was down in good season, and on her departure carried from this port the following named people: Mrs. Geo. W. McGowan, Miss Gunderson, bookkeeper for C. Schmidt & Company; G. B. McNab, of the Canadian Pacific; G. A. Waddell, J. C. Hamilton, L. A. Newton, the telephone man; and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Plympton.

The lighthouse tender Heather went to sea and Orford Rock at 6 a. m. yesterday, with Captain Pond and Major McIndoe, on board, with their wives and other guests, and will be out for a few days on a tour of inspection as to the efficacy of lighting that section of the coast, either by house or ship.

The Columbine is still under "clean-up" conditions, preparatory to another sally into the Alaskan seas on a supply trip. Captain Charles Richardson reported on board yesterday after a few days spent at home with an aggravating bilious attack, of which he has got the better.

The big Dutch steamship Netherlands is still on her way down from the metropolis and will probably be in port this morning. She will cross out at the first available moment, under pilotage of Captain Geo. Woods, of the bar service.

down yesterday afternoon and was met here by her master, Captain Lystad, who came down on the noon train yesterday, and who will take her to sea today if bar conditions permit.

The steamer Homer discharged 50 tons of freight at the Callender dock early this morning and went on, up the river for a return cargo to the Bay City.

The steamer Eureka left up for Portland yesterday morning from the Callender dock, after a delayed entry here from Eureka, on account of prevalent nor'westers.

The steamship Geo. W. Elder is due to leave the Callender pier at an early hour this morning, for her ports of call on the California coast.

The steamship Breakwater was among the arrivals down the river yesterday and went to sea and the Coos coast without any delay here.

The steamer Sue H. Elmore will endeavor to get away to Tillamook today, having plenty of business to deliver there from both docks.

The British steamship Magdala is due down from Portland this morning on her way to Europe with a huge cargo of grain.

FRAZEE'S "ISLE OF SPICE."

Bompoka, King of Nicobar, the leading comedian in the "Isle of Spice," which comes to the Astoria Theatre tonight, has a dope book which contains an endless amount of clever verse. At least this is the undivided opinion of the audiences which witness the production, for they insist upon hearing all that's said and then want more.

The costumes of the debilitated king are many and ludicrous. He has a pair of legs that look like knotted walking sticks, with a ribbon tied around one to reveal the fact that two exist.

"Love is an intoxication. Marriage is the delirium tremens," says the much-married king, who loves only the beautiful, but will take less comedy if necessary.

Mickey O'Grady and Slubby Mackinaw, two naval deserters, drop down upon the "Isle of Spice" from a collapsed balloon, and keep the audience in continuous mirth with their funny pranks.

"You don't know nothing about balloons, Mickey, when it comes to balloons you're all up in the air," says the doleful Slubby who weeps at his new surroundings.

"Balloons aren't on the level anyway, booby," answers the fearless Mickey. The pretty girls, delightful songs, costumes and beautiful scenic effects are better than usually found in musical comedies.

TELEPHONE FRANCHISE NOT ACCEPTED

NORTHWESTERN LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE CO. FAILS TO COME TO TIME

Wednesday was the last day of grace allowed the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone Company to comply with the terms relating to the acceptance of the franchise voted them recently by the city council. This is the company which proposed to instal automatic telephones in Astoria and in which it was thought local capital would be interested. According to the terms of the franchise the company was given until October 1st to accept the terms of same which demanded that a deposit of $500 should be made on acceptance of the franchise by the company.

City Auditor Anderson sent a communication to the representatives calling their attention to the fact that the time limit would expire at the close of business on September 30th. Up to closing hours last night no reply had been received and as a consequence the franchise has been forfeited and, from present appearances, Astoria will not in the near future have a new telephone company. Nothing is known as to the reason for the failure to accept the franchise nor what move will be made in the matter next. Members of the council, it is said, have expressed themselves as favoring the granting of the franchise to a company that can show its ability to properly finance the proposition and bring it to a successful issue.

Mr. Waggoner, the representative of the company, is not in the city and his views on the matter could not be obtained but it is thought that an explanation will be forthcoming soon.

They Are All Here—

The "Isle of Spice" people, 38 strong arrived in the city last night, direct from Centralia, and all fresh and ready for the splendid production of that charming musical extravaganza tonight at the Astoria Theatre. The company is under the personal management of Mr. W. C. Elmendorf, who promises the Astoria public one of the most elegant and charming entertainments of the year, this evening; and from all accounts of the excellence of the play, music and troupe, his pledge is likely to be made more than good. At and after 11 o'clock this morning seats may be secured at Manager Hanlin's office and they will not last long.
